Are They Protected in the Event of Disaster?

 MyMedicalRecords.com™

Access Your Health Records and Vital Personal Documents Whenever You Need Them.

Nothing is more important to you and your family than your health. And it's more important than ever for every family to have control of, and access to, its personal health records.

In fact, the government has mandated that you and your family have electronic personal health records. With MyMedicalRecords.com, it's easy and economical for you to store and manage your health records, including x-rays and scans, as well as other vital documents, and photos of children, pets and personal property.

Easy to Use

Getting information into your MyMedicalRecords.com account is as easy as 1 - 2 - 3. You receive a personal Lifeline telephone number that your doctors can use to fax your health records directly into your account. Or you can upload them yourself.

- 1 When you enroll, you receive stickers that authorize your doctors to transmit your health records to your account.
- 2 You are notified automatically by e-mail, text message or pager when a new health record is received in your account.
- 3 Faxed records are converted to easily-viewed PDF files - the standard for safe digital storage.

Once your records have been received, you can view them at any time from any Internet-connected computer in the world. You simply log into your account with a secure password you create. Then, at your option, you can sort your records by family member or doctor in any one of 16 file folders - even create your own folder names - so it's extra easy to manage and organize your information.

MyMedicalRecords.com also gives you the ability to receive or upload and store patient medical charts, process notes, immunization records, birth certificates, passports, and even images such as x-rays and scans. In addition, your Lifeline number can be used as a password-protected voice mailbox so your doctor can leave you important and confidential messages.

HOW IT WORKS

Other Health Management Features

More than just a place to store health records, MyMedicalRecords.com is a tool to better manage your overall health.

Use our helpful forms and folders to create a complete family medical history. Set up a directory of your doctors and other health providers. Manage your prescriptions in a database that allows you to check for possible negative drug interactions. Even automatically be reminded when you have a doctor appointment or it's time to refill a prescription.
